Surrounded by over two million physical books every day at work, Gregg Silvis recently created a series of works based on the physical text of a novel. In Great Expectations: de/reconstructed each sculpted object is comprised of the entire physical text of the Dickens novel, reimagined to see the entire text of the novel from a novel, non-book perspective.

Gregg Silvis has been a librarian at the University of Delaware Library since 1994. Currently the Associate University Librarian for Systems and Metadata Services, his staff is responsible for computing infrastructure throughout the library, the cataloging of all library collections and technical support of digital scholarship projects across campus. He was a French horn player in a previous life, playing in orchestras in northeastern Ohio and in Mexico City.
